ORDER DENYING REVIEW AND REMANDING

The Intervenor's Request for Review of the Regional Director's Supplemental Decision Regarding Intervenor's Objections to Conduct of Election is denied as it raises no substantial issues warranting review.¹ Accordingly, this case is remanded to the Regional Director for issuance of an appropriate Certification of Representative.

WILMA B. LIEBMAN, CHAIRMAN

MARK GASTON PEARCE, MEMBER

BRIAN E. HAYES, MEMBER

Dated, Washington, D.C., August 17, 2011.

¹ Member Hayes agrees that the Intervenor has failed to raise any substantial issues warranting review in the specific circumstances of this case. Regarding the Intervenor's specific allegation that the Petitioner engaged in objectionable surveillance based on one employee supporter independently collecting the ballot of another, he expresses no view concerning whether a third party's handling of employees' mail ballots could be grounds for granting review or setting aside an election in different circumstances.

Member Becker is recused and did not participate in the consideration of this case.
